SHANA TOVA UMETUKA

Over The Days of Teshuvah… It Is time for us to reflect…

For the sin you have committed openly or secretly by promoting xenophobia, racism, antisemitism, and anti-LGBTQ hate.

And for the sin that you have committed by ushering in abortion bans across the country.

For the sin that you have committed by hardening your heart and purposefully separating immigrant children from their parents.

And for the sin that you committed with an utterance of thy lips when you distracted Americans with suggestions of bleach injections and unproven medicines to to treat a deadly disease.

For the sin that you have committed with immorality by cheating on your wife after she just gave birth to your child.

And for the sin which you have committed openly and secretly, stealing and hiding classified documents in your bathroom.

For all of these sins and the 34 convictions, may we all take time to reflect and vote.

For the sin that you have committed by using coercion to hold up aid to Ukraine for political gain.

And for the sin which you have committed by disrespecting parents, children, and teachers by refusing to support common sense gun reform.

For the sin you have committed by perpetrating lies to convince voters that the 2020 election was stolen.

And for the sin that you have committed by improper thoughts and actions involving E.Jean Carroll and the 25 other women that have accused you of violent sexual acts.

For the sin which you have committed by a gathering of lewdness when you hung out with Jeffrey Epstein.

And for the sin which you've committed before You by evil talk of pulling the United States out of NATO.

For all of these sins and the 34 convictions, may we all take time to reflect and vote.

For the sin that you have committed by the impurity of speech when stating that they'll let you do anything, you can even grab 'em by the p–y.

And for the sin which you have committed with the evil inclination of knowingly inciting violence on January 6 at the Capitol.

For the sin you committed with knowledge and deceit by asking Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger to find 11,000 votes.

And for the sin which you've committed before You with knowledge and with deceit when you denied sleeping with a porn star and paying her to cover it up.

For the sin you have committed by foolish talk when you said that if you win in 2024, we will never need another U.S. election again.

For all of these sins and the 34 convictions, may we all take time to reflect and vote.

For the sin which you've committed by the impurity of speech when you mocked a disabled reporter at a rally.

And for the sin which you've committed by by spewing antisemitic tropes.

And for the sin which you've committed by foolish talk when you said there are very fine people on both sides in Charlottesville.

For the sin that you've committed by elevating, praising, and promoting our adversaries, including Putin, Xi, Orban, the Taliban, etc.

And for the sin you've committed with impudence toward the rule of law by decimating the postal service to cause chaos in the vote-by-mail system.

For all of these sins and the 34 convictions, may we all take time to reflect and vote.

For the sin you've committed before You by lying about taking classified documents.

And for the sin which you've committed before You by a haughty demeanor by disrespecting U.S. veterans, especially.

For the sin which you've committed before You in business dealings.

And for the sin which you've committed before You by causeless hatred.

And for the sin you've committed before You by a confused heart, promising to pardon the January 6 insurrectionists.

For all of these sins and the 34 convictions, may we all take time to reflect.

May We All Be Inscribed in the Book of Safety, National Security, Prosperity, and Democracy This Year. VOTE.
